

Monday morning

Dear Sir:

Saw your picture in yesterday's paper where you and others like you were leaving the Cathedral after being in there "belling and slinging snot" over that ole gal who got shot because she was out of place and meddling where she had no business.

If she had been at home with her husband and five kids where she belonged, it would not have happened. Would it? Maybe she did not have a husband and maybe those kids were born while she was unwed. That is the type of people that cater to such "carrying on" isn't it?

Don't you have anything to do other than study Tomfoolery after spending 35 or 40 minutes in the pulpit each week and get a big fat salary for it? How does your congregation allow such stuff as that?

Rumor has it that preachers are responsible for the oil of mustard being thrown during the demonstration at the capitol. Is it true?

Several people have told me they are ashamed to admit being members of the Christian Church since they learned what you are doing.

Don't you have any sick people or prospective members you could be dalling on and leave that devilment off.

This should keep you out of devilment for a while: For the first time, make a friendly, pastoral call to each member of your congregation. While there show them this letter, then see how many of them are willing to "sic" you on with what you have been practicing.

Sherman McDaniel